Ambassadors of Authentic Indian & Mughlai Cuisines

Kake Da Hotel is a legendary family restaurant, founded by Late Shri Amolak Ram Chopra during pre-independence era in 1931, in Lahore (now in Pakistan). Nicknamed as 'Kaka', meaning youngster, Amolak Ram Chopra was a visionary entrepreneur who believed in providing delicious food to as many people as possible at affordable prices.

After India's partition and independence in 1947, Amolak Ram Chopra moved to New Delhi and started his food venture on a wooden cart in Connaught Place...and the rest is history. Today, Kake Da Hotel successfully operates multiple restaurants in Delhi and NCR.

Over the years, Kake Da Hotel has become a famous landmark in Delhi. For their quality and food, Kake Da Hotel was presented with "Sanads" by the Ministry of Health, Government of India.

Innovative Offerings

Considered as the pioneer of numerous Mughlai delicacies, Kake Da Hotel offers several unique dishes, including Saag Chicken, Butter Chicken, Tandoori Chicken, Rada Chicken, Rada Meat, Mutton Barra, etc. In fact, taste connoisseurs came to know about many dishes only from Kake Da Hotel.

Kake's famous delicacies in the era of gastronomy are Chicken Curry, Dahi Wala Meat and Brain Curry. One can also taste their newly introduced Zeera Chicken, which is their own invention. In addition, Kake's extensive barbeque menu offers the best and widest varieties of Tandoori dishes.

The restaurant offers an interesting variety of breads (Rotis and Naans), served straight out of the Tandoor. For those who eat their dish in large bites and still want to eat more Rotis can simply request extra gravy free, instead of ordering a full repeat dish.

The Real Secret

The reason why regular eaters at Kake Da Hotel prefer it to others is consistent taste, which the restaurant has maintained over the decades. "Our priority is serving high quality food with strict focus on quality and hygiene. The uniqueness of our taste lies in the perfect blend of home-made spices, carefully selected raw materials and ancient methodology - cooking in earthen Handis on coal-fired Chullah," reveals Ashok Kaka Chopra, the youngest son of Amolak Ram Chopra and present owner of Kake Da Hotel.

The real secret behind Kake's tempting flavour is the age-old recipes treated with authentic spices & traditional methods. For Tandoori dishes, the cooking process requires great experience and expertise of the chef. It takes great skill to correctly measure spices, mix marinades, and most importantly, judge the Tandoor heat and time required for dishes to be cooked perfectly.

Interestingly, all food items are prepared using pure Desi Ghee, which enhances the taste of the dishes to great extent. The dishes are kept in Dekchis (huge metal containers), which are put on simmer to ensure that the taste and freshness of the dishes remain intact.

Apart from the ever-evolving non-vegetarian fare, Kake Da Hotel offers an equally popular vegetarian food. Amongst others, the Daal Makhani is a delight.

"We wash the raw Daal 5 times...rubbing it with special salt before cooking it in the traditional way. It's a specialized process that makes our Daal Makhani not just tastier & creamier but different than others," explains Ashok Kaka.
